

Websites for Journalism and Mass Communications Teachers

www.webenglishteacher.com (for InDesign, PageMaker, and style books) www.csne.org (journalist's toolbox source/reference site) www.copydesk.org (great for copy editing exercises and editing rules) www.lii.org (librarian's internet source verification site) www.jteacher.com (desktop publishing, stylebooks, technology) www.highschooljournalism.org (lesson plans, newspaper, yearbook basics) www.poynter.org/links
www.adobe.com
www.cyberjournalist.net
www.newscript.com
www.studentpress.org
www.jea.org
www.ronreason.com (wall street journal redesign and design stylebook) www.graphicdesign.about.com (great design site for typography, sidebars, etc.)
www.journalism.indiana.edu/resources www.spj.org
www.kodak.com (great for teaching basic photography using interactive site) www.newseum.org (can be used for journalism, English, mass comm., social studies) www.photocourse.com (online course on digital photography) www.writesite.org
www.taje.org
www.internetcampus.com/frtv/frtv_ind.htm (great Mass Communication Site) www.uiowa.edu/~quill-sc/ (Quill and Scroll Website) www.mediachannel.org (Great for journalism, current events, newspaper, mass communication) www.americanpressinstitute.org/pages/toolbox/high_school_journalism/high_school_journalism/www.cnn.com/EDUCATION/

Lesson Plan Websites provided via JEA Listserve

http://lessonplancentral.com/lessons/Language_Arts/Journalism/http://www.highschooljournalism.org/Teachers/Lesson_Plans/Archive.cfm <http://www.usnewsclassroom.com/resources/activities/journalism.html> <http://www.nytimes.com/learning/teachers/lessons/journalism.html> http://www.teach-nology.com/teachers/lesson_plans/literature/journalism <http://www.lessonplans4teachers.com/journalism.php>
<http://www.khake.com/page87.html>
<http://taje.org/handouts.html> (a lot of pdfs of handouts on varioustopics)
<http://www.newseum.com/educationcenter/teachingtools/index.htm> (First Amendment lessons)
<http://www.rtnda.org/resources/highschool.shtml> ("Good Night and Good Luck" Teacher's Guide here, as well as other broadcast resources)
http://www.jideas.org/teaching_tools/index.html